18 reports: 5 killings / 5 survivors / 7 missing / 1 grave desecrations

Survivor	On August 4, 2017, a 13-year-old girl with albinism (name withheld) narrowly escaped abduction and was found unhurt the following day in Dogbo in the southwest of Benin. According to the victim's cousin, V.G., she was just leaving the marketplace with one of her sisters and was in the neighborhood of Dogbo Zaphi public primary school when the kidnappers approached frightening the victim's sister away and abducting her in a black Ford Focus with the license number AY 4078. The police were immediately alerted and launched a large patrol of the surrounding area. Under intense pressure, the kidnappers were forced to release the victim in a bush where she spent the night. The following morning she found help and was reunited with her family at the Dobgo's Police station with the General Director of the National Police. All 3 suspects who committed the abduction are Beninese from Dogbo and have been arrested by Commander CIE APLAHOUE and his team and will be presented to a public prosecutor.
	On July 13, 2013 a 20-year-old man with albinism known as F.M.H. was deceived, drugged, kidnapped, killed, and mutilated in his homeland of Benin. F lived in the community of Lalo in south-western Benin, where he was learning to become a nurse in one of the hospitals at Lalo Centre. F had a cousin named P.H. who lived in Koudjon Centre, a small village near Lalo. Both boys had grown up together in the same hamlet of Ouinsouhoué.

On that fateful day, P approached his cousin with albinism in order to deceive him, saying that he'd found a high paying job for him in downtown Cotonou, and that the boss wanted to meet right away. F showed no hesitation and after a 3 hour ride, they went to wait for the so-called boss in a bar. Here F was drugged and kidnapped to Porto-Novo, the country's capital city, where he was killed, and parts of his body removed. When P returned home to Lalo alone, everyone started asking for F. Pascal kept insisting that he had not traveled anywhere with F. Since many had seen them travelling together, people started threatening him to tell the truth. In an attempt to conceal the truth and silence the family, he decided to consult various witchdoctors to make him amulets.

Finally, he and his three accomplices went to consult one of the visionaries of the Celestial Churches of Christ. He told him the whole story and begged him to mystically silence everyone about the murder in exchange for a lot of money. The visionary left his house briefly and called the police, who arrived quickly. The criminals tried to escape but the police shot one of them and all four were arrested and placed in custody. Of the four, one was released when it was discovered that he was the younger brother to one of the criminals and had nothing to do with the murder. The other three were placed in the prison in Lokossa and are serving their sentences.

Missing

On March 23, 2019, a 45-year-old man with albinism by the name of A.A. went missing in the city of Abomey, Zou Department, Benin. The victim was a well-known joiner (carpenter) who lived in the A's home and had his joinery business opposite the D.T. Much to the dismay of his family, the victim's younger brother may have been involved in his disappearance. According to a cousin, A had some work to do for an old man who had called him in the morning of Saturday, March 23, indicating that the door locks had been purchased and that he should come to make the repairs. A has not been heard from since. The old man was questioned over the disappearance but denies that A met with him that day. F.H., founder and chairperson of Beninese Albinism NGO has raised the alert, asking anyone who has any suspicions about A's destination that day to inform the police or the nearest local authority. He concluded by saying: "I pray we find A unharmed for the sake of his family and the nation. I appeal parents to look after their children with albinism. I also warn adults with albinism against going unaccompanied to a meeting even if they know the person who invites them to that meeting."

In September of 2018, a 50-year-old woman with albinism by the name of D.C.K. ends up dying of skin cancer after which her lifeless body was decapitated by a family member at her burial in the woods near her family home in the community of Allada, Atlantique Department, Benin. Over the span of multiple unknown dates throughout the course of her life, the deceased had survived numerous abductions attempts and other inhumane cruelties at the hands of her family. D.C.K. had always been disowned by her father's family who compared her to a white monster along with many other punishing psychological abuses. She never did manage to move past these cruelties and build a family of her own. At one-point she was very sick with wounds all over her body and finally decided to seek assistance from her mother's younger sister, hoping for a more supportive response.

Tragically, and to her great surprise, she was ill-treated by her aunt as well, being forced to cook despite her poor vision and deteriorating health. One day while cooking, a fire broke out in the kitchen due to her only having sight in one eye which she suffered from low vision, she didn't immediately notice the fire and was nearly burnt alive. Thankfully, she was rescued by some neighbours. To make life worse, her aunt colluded with a witchdoctor to get rid of her for good. The aunt told D that she knew of a witchdoctor who could heal her but that the treatment consisted of pouring boiling water over the left side of her face. This was pure torture for the victim who screamed for help while being overpowered by the perpetrators. She lost half of her left ear during this so-called "cure" ritual, and the skin on her face had all but disappeared and became infested with maggots. Upon arrival at hospital the doctors denounced the so-called treatment, describing it as Machiavellian. In September of 2018, D died of skin cancer.

Her body was immediately apprehended by the family who refused to give her a decent funeral, saying that she did not deserve a coffin or a grave in a cemetery. One of the K. family members publicly declared that he needed her head because, since childhood she had been very lucky, having escaped their many attempted kidnappings. Nestor, one of the deceased cousins, insisted on participating in the burial in the bush in ALLADA. Following the funeral, Nestor told police that the body’s head had been removed before it was buried. The police warned him against pushing the case further for fear that he may be killed by the family. They went on to tell Nestor that this was a family matter and that there was no need to “make noise” about the body parts that had been removed since the victim was already dead.

Botswana

4 reports: 3 survivors/1 killing

Survivor

In September of 1998, a 27-year-old woman with albinism (name withheld) narrowly escaped a second plot against her life. The incident took place at Kanye, her native village in Southern Botswana. Although the victim was a primary school teacher in the city of Jwaneng, Botswana, she was pregnant and staying in her native village at the time. On this near fateful day, her young brother encountered three guys in the village night club who knew S.

They offered him some beer to get him drunk, hoping to manipulate him into joining their murder plot against his sister. Fortunately, he sensed something was wrong and secretly managed to replace the beer with water while pretending to be drunk. The guys asked him: "Where is your sister, the albino teacher?" "Your sister could actually make the deal: She is albino and pregnant!" "We want her flesh...!". The victim's brother lied, telling them she was teaching in Jwanenge city but would be home for the weekend and that they could find her then. When he got home from the club that evening, the victim's brother told her everything and warned her to leave immediately to Jwanenge city for her safety. After that incident, S stayed in the city for a long time.

Murder	K.M. Burkina Faso

9 reports: 2 killing / 6 survivors / 1 asylum

Killing	On August 14, 2012, a 12-year-old boy with albinism was killed in Gaoua, Burkina Faso. Witnesses report that the body was found with his head and genitals removed. (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names from this publication, GAOUA, BURKINA FASO – 12-year-old boy with albinism killed, on Wednesday, August 15, 2012)
Trafficking	On April 18th, 2021, Dr. P.K., an American physician originally from Kenya, was an eye witness at the Nairobi airport to three aggressive African men being allowed to transport a young boy with albinism out of the country without a passport. He said the men had come from Tanzania and were headed to Ouagadougou, in Burkina Faso and that they used loud, offensive language as the airline attendant asked for the missing passport – they had three passports and none for the child. Dr. P.K. is now convinced that the three-year-old boy with albinism is no longer a baby headed to a loving family, but a sacrifice at some altar of a cruel witchcraft ceremony. (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names from this publication, KENYA – 3 year old boy with albinism, abduction & Victim of Witchcraft Sacrifice, May 1, 2012 at 4:00 pm)

Grave Desecration	On March 16, 2021, there was an attempt to desecrate the grave of a woman with albinism, C.N.F., who had died at the age of 74 in Lubunga, DR Congo. The case was reported by an NGO in DRC to the Africa Albinism Network. In the early hours of March 25, 2019, the grave of a man with albinism by the name of G., who had died a month and a half earlier, was vandalized at his family plot in the ward of CIRIRI, in the community of BAGIRA, BUKAVU District, SOUTH KIVU Province, DRC. The remains of the deceased were exhumed, dismembered and body parts stolen. A local resident by the name of R.C. said it's not the first time that the grave of a PWA has been tampered with, and body parts taken in the area of BUKAVU. It is alleged that these acts are committed for witchcraft purposes. Condemnation of the act by the Urban Security Council which was presided over by the mayor of BUKAVU, M.B.U. was followed by the albinism group called Association pour la promotion intégrale des albinos. (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names from this publication, BUKAVU, DRC – grave of a man with albinism tampered with & dismembered for witchcraft rituals, March 30th, 2019)

Egypt

1 report: 1 asylum

Asylum

On Friday, September 16, 2011, (name withheld), a 28-year-old man with albinism from Egypt told journalist S.B. about his life in Egypt and his newfound asylum in New Zealand. He contrasted the profound discrimination facing people with albinism in Egypt with the amazing and equal opportunities he has found in New Zealand. The man's lawyer said: "He was seriously maltreated at multiple levels including such things as deliberate cigarette burns from supposed educators... The hostility toward him was serious at best because of his Albinism. He has now been able to both marry and continue his studies. He is one of the nicest and most considerate people I have met in a long time and doing very well." The man says; "I want to be a professor in the university. The first time I ever got a salary was here in New Zealand. I can support myself and my research. I don't want to go back to Egypt, not even for a visit."

Ghana

4 reports: 1 killing / 3 survivors

Killing	On February 17, 2015, the lifeless body of a 35 year old man with albinism by the name of K.Y. aka A. was found at the entrance of Pastor E.A.'s residence in Owoakra, Boketey, under Amanase in the eastern region of Ghana. According to the pastor's wife, G.A., her husband ran off shortly after the death of K and she has not heard from him since. Unfortunately, the police have not been responsive to crimes committed in this area and allowed Pastor A to escape without questioning. Since that time however, police commander S.P.T.Y. of Suhum police station announced that because of the public interest whipped up by media related to the death of K.Y., the homicide unit at police headquarters in Accra had taken over the investigation.
Survivor	On January 1, 2023, a 16 year old boy with albinism from the town of Garu in the Upper East region of North Ghana, was playing football with his his teammates while celebrating the new year when the perpetrator approached him on a motorbike. The perpetrator pleaded with the victim to go with him to get his bicycle from a nearby neighborhood and bring it back to where they were playing football since he couldn't ride two bikes at once. The survivor consented, but when they reached the said neighborhood, the perpetrator didn't stop. When the survivor protested, he insisted he stops at the next neighborhood. Upon reaching the next neighborhood, the perpetrator still refused to stop despite the survivor's protests, so he jumped off the bike, and in an attempt to flee, he met a lady and narrated the story. Little did he know, she was the main perpetrator and had a syndicate following them on a motorcycle. Upon arriving, he verified their participation in the attempted abduction.

Guinea

16 reports: 5 killings / 6 survivors / 5 asylums & other refuge cases

Killing	On a Sunday in September of 2010, at the area of La Carrière, in the town of Matam, district of Conakry, the body of a PWA was found with the eyes missing— very likely removed with a knife. According to our source, the unnamed PWA used to wander daily in that area with some friends, looking for their daily bread. The victim's life is made up of begging at the big market of Matam's main station and on the streets of the Capital City. One morning his lifeless body was found laying on the sidewalk.
Survivor	On May 17, 2017 a four-year-old girl with albinism (name withheld) narrowly escaped a ritual tragedy after being rescued from 4 men who had abducted the victim in the country village of Damankania, in the Sinanya district of Yabara, Guinea. The suspected traffickers kidnapped the little girl in front of her mother at their home. Her father Salif Camara explains: "a young man got out of a vehicle that was parked in front of my compound and snatched our daughter. My wife who was on the scene asked the kidnappers where they were taking her. Without answering they drove off with little the child. My wife shouted for a motorbike taxi to chase the kidnappers. I immediately alerted the Commander of the Gendarmerie (police) who deployed his team and managed to capture the vehicle. Of the 4 assailants, 2 succeeded in escaping and the other two were arrested." Accused of

Survivor	trafficking of a person with albinism, a man by the name of Mohamed Conté and a woman named Aissata Bangoura were arrested on May 17, 2017, by the Services of the Territorial Gendarmerie (Police) of Kindia. When including, the abductor named Mohamed Conté admitted that he was a witchdoctor who came to visit another older witchdoctor known as Doubayadi who was also the father of his colleague Aissata Bangoura. (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names from this publication – KINDIA, GUINEA – two suspected albino traffickers arrested by gendarmerie Friday May 26, 2017)

Survivor	In late June of 2017, a woman with albinism had her 15-month-old infant, who did not have albinism by the name of C.A.K., kidnapped from their home in Ivory Coast by a pigmented woman from Benin. The police in Arrah, in the east of the country, found the Beninese woman named Nadège Dassia after she had stolen the child. After four years of trying to give birth to her own child, the abductor passed herself off as a soap seller which easily enabled her to enter the bedroom of the absent mother and abduct the baby. After fleeing the house with the infant in a taxi heading towards KOTOBI (in east-central of Cote d’Ivoire, subprefecture of Arrah), the police were alerted and managed to catch the pair,

Kenya

13 reports: 5 killings / 8 survivors

Killing

On September 20, 2015, a 56-year-old man with albinism by the name of E.J. succumbed to injuries from a brutal machete attack and died. Ten days earlier on September 10, 2015, it was reported that E survived a ritual attack by three men armed with pangas at his home in Gavudunyi village, Hamisi Subcounty, Vihiga county, Kenya. “When I told them I did not have any money, they asked for my ear or hand to sell to Tanzania,” he said. A struggle ensued and the attackers sliced his left ear, arm, neck and fingers which left him unconscious. His brother Nickson Lugadiru, also with albinism, said E was found in that state by his son, who called for help.

L took his brother to Hamisi Subcounty Hospital, where he was referred to Vihiga. E was operated on for three hours after which medics said he was out of danger. The attack has rekindled concerns over the security of people with albinism ahead of Tanzania’s October elections. “The attackers wanted my brother’s body parts to sell to Tanzania,” said Lugadiru who is one of four PWA in their family. The national coordinator of Kenya’s Albinism Empowerment Network, Martin Wanyonyi, visited E at the hospital, condemned the attack and said if the criminals are not apprehended within 48 hours, his network would take to the streets in protest.

Lesotho

1 report: 1 killing

Killing

In October, 2015, a 16-year-old girl with albinism by the name of T.T. was mutilated in what is suspected to be a case of ritual killing in the country of Lesotho, a country encircled by South-Africa. According to police spokesperson, Senior Inspector C.M., a woman from the victim’s district arrested in connection with the murder was assisting with investigations. T met the suspect at an initiation school where they were both initiates.

He declined to disclose more details, saying it would compromise investigations. He went on to say; “We are not in a position to disclose whether the crime was committed as a result of superstitious beliefs or not. All I can say is investigations are ongoing...Once the investigations have been completed, the case will be brought before court and the offenders will face the wrath of the law.”

69 reports: 20 killings, 31 survivors, 7 missing, 11 grave desecrations

*In Malawi more cases have been reported. In 2017, 102 cases were reported by the UN Independent Expert on albinism in the report of her official visit to Malawi. See UN document number: A/HRC/34/59/Add.1 (March 2017). A few months later, in October 2017, the association of persons with albinism in Malawi reported 122 cases (Source: Malawi News Agency (MANA); Lack of finances stalls 122 cases of people with albinism; Wednesday, Oct 25, 2017; <http://www.maravipost.com/lack-finances-stalls-122-cases-people-albinism/>). Killing

On the Night of November 30 at 11 pm in Mawawa Village, near the town of Kasungu, in central Malawi, a young three-year-old girl with albinism was reportedly asleep in bed with her grandmother when an unidentified assailant broke into the house. The man stabbed the young girl and amputated her arm before fleeing with it. Police are still searching for the suspect.

Survivor	(1 year old boy): On September 3d, 2023 at 2:14 am, Standing Voice received a call to its helpline reporting an attempted abduction of a one-year-old boy with albinism in Mitundu, Malawi. At around midnight on the 3rd of September, a man broke into a house where a mother and her son with albinism were sleeping. The man went to the bedroom and woke up the mother by calling out her name. He then instructed her to hand over the toddler. Frightened, the mother started screaming for help, which caused the intruder to flee. In the morning of September 3rd, the case was reported to the police, which resulted in the immediate arrest of one of the mother's uncles. Grave Desecration

T.R. (34-year-old man): On Sunday 25 June, 2023, at around 2 PM local time in the village of M'maliha in Blantyre (Southern Malawi), people passing by the graveyard of T noticed that his grave had been tampered with and they informed the village chief. T was a man with albinism who died from skin cancer on July 20, 2022 at just 34 years old. The police were later called and informed about a grave violation and exhumation. Together with local leaders, APAM and the victim's relatives had led further investigations to visit the site to identify the body. It was discovered that T's body had been removed. The criminals amputated both lower limbs from the hip, and both the upper limbs from the shoulder, leaving his torso. The police and the victim's family took the remains to the mortuary where they are planning for a secure reburial. The perpetrators have yet to be apprehended.

Killing

On May 13, 2018, a five-year-old girl with albinism by the name of D.D. was kidnapped from her home in the middle of the night and later found beheaded in the village of Fana, about 125 Km from Bamako, the capital of Mali. AFP reports that according to police, armed men abducted and beheaded the five-year-old girl with albinism in what was feared to be a ritual murder for supposedly magic body parts. Little D “was sleeping in the courtyard with her mother and her sister” when the men snatched her at around 2:00 am on Sunday.

The girl’s mother pursued the kidnappers, who scaled a wall with her child, but then turned back to protect her second daughter, also with albinism. “We searched for the little girl everywhere. We found her body beside a mosque, but she had no head,” said a village teacher, Oumar Diakite. Sissoko, the general secretary of the Federation of Associations of Persons with Albinism in West Africa (FAPAO), pointed out the link between crimes against people with albinism and political events, ahead of Mali’s presidential election on July 29. “Every time there are elections, we become prey for people who want to make ritual sacrifices. This is not the first time this has happened in Fana,” he said. “The state needs to take up its responsibilities.” “We demand justice. Her head was taken. This is a ritual crime,” activist Mamadou Sissoko told AFP after going to the scene.

The governor of the region of KOULIKORO, C.M.C., the director general of the national gendarmerie, the Commander of the Legion of gendarmerie were on the crime scene, and went to the morgue to see the body of the beheaded little girl.

Traditional authorities have been approached to help appease tensions.

Missing & Presumed Dead

On the 17th day of the 2012 Islamic month of Ramadan in Niger (likely August 6, 2012). A young man born with albinism in 1986 by the name of S.H. went missing in the ward of Dar es Salam in the capital city of Niamey, Niger. He has not been seen since. On September 13 & 20, 2014, Ms. K.M., leader and founder of the PWA association in Niger interviewed the victims' family and neighbors to confirm S's disappearance. Both parties told her that the abduction did in fact take place. At the time S went missing, his family reported the case to the Police who did their investigation, but sadly were not able to find him. Two of S's brothers also have albinism.

Killing

Three unproven murders of people with albinism are alleged to be linked to the March, 2012 elections in Senegal. Several different sources have purported 1 killing in 2012 and 2 killings in 2010. These charges were actually made by President A.W. but apparently not at the same time:

- In 2012 during the electoral campaign, President A said before the steering committee of his own political party (the Senegalese Democratic Party PDS): “Some people told me that Pape DIOP killed a PWA they brought from Mali”.

Killing

On January 28, 2018, a 14-year-old girl with albinism by the name of G.S.S. was abducted and later killed in Hlalanikahle Township -Witbank Mpumalanga, South Africa. The family woke up to the sound of commotion made by three men breaking a window and entering at gun point to abduct G.

They also took her 15-month-old nephew, N.N., who did not have albinism but was allegedly mistaken for another child from the same household who also has albinism.

G's young body was found 3 weeks later on February 21, 2018. The remains indicated that she had been decapitated, with her arms and private parts removed. The shallow grave was discovered in Cullinan Pretoria which is about 81 km way from her home.

The infant was discovered on the N4 highway with exact location not disclosed. On February 20, 2018, Thokozani Msibi (32), a traditional healer from Swaziland living in South Africa, was arrested after police found a human head and other human body parts at his home. He confessed to the brutal killing of the two children and identified the location of the shallow grave. He appeared in Witbank Magistrate's Court at which time he was also applying for bail which M.D.V. denied.

The first court appearance was on February 21, 2018, where he was remanded in custody with the second court appearance on February 27, 2018. The next court date was on the March 6, 2018, with investigations still ongoing since the other two suspects have not been apprehended.

Survivor	Z.E.: On 28th August 2022, in the Shinyanga region of Tanzania, a man on a motorbike went up to Z, a woman with albinism, asking for excrements from her or from a child who has albinism for ritualistic purposes. He promised her that if she gave him this, then a rich person could purchase it for 7 million Tanzanian shillings (approx. $3000 USD) and that she would get a cut from that amount Z. recorded him with her mobile phone as he departed. She had told the man to come around 2 pm the same day to collect the excrements. At the same time, she informed the police and arranged for them to come to her place to arrest the man who was supposedly going to collect the excrements. They came to her place around 2 pm, the man was caught by police and he admitted that there are others who are doing the same thing in the regions of Shinyanga and Mwanza. The man was detained pending further investigation. (Trusted Source: Africa Albinism Network via Villages of Hope/UTSS Program Staff, SHINYANGA, TANZANIA – mother & child with albinism asked for excrements for ritualistic purposes; August 28, 2022.)
Survivor of Rape	On October 20, 2017, a thirty year old woman with albinism (name withheld) survived an attempted rape by Bundala Luhende, age 20, at around 11:00 AM at her parents' house in Mhunze Village, Kishapu District, Shinyanga Region, northwestern Tanzania. That day the victim was home alone when the perpetrator, who was unknown to them and not from their neighbourhood, arrived at the door claiming to be hungry and in need of food. When she told him that there was no food in the house he proceeded to offer her money in exchange for sexual favours. She declined and asked him to leave, at which time the man started forcing himself on her. Zainabu began to scream and a neighbour came to her rescue. The criminal escaped but was chased down by villagers, captured and handed over to the police. The perpetrator is now in custody at Kishapu Police Station waiting to be arraigned in court on November 07, 2017. While the victim

	survived and is safe and in the care of her parents, she is frightened and psychologically affected by the whole ordeal. The UTSS First Response Team has asked the Kishapu District Commissioner to ensure that she gets proper counseling and sent to a Vocational Training Centre where she can do something that would generate income instead of staying at home in isolation. They also asked the Community Development Officer to link her with a women's self-help group. (Trusted Source: Initial report on October 25, 2017, from partners in the Kagera Region and the Tanzania Albinism Society (TAS) in Simiyu. On October 27 – 30, 2017, the UTSS First Response Team visited and interviewed the victim, her family, neighbors, police, social welfare department, community development department and the offices of the District Commissioner and District Executive Director after which an Understanding Albinism Seminar was also conducted for all.)
Missing	On December 27, 2014, a 4 year old girl with albinism by the name of P.E. was abducted in Ndamhi Village of Fukalo Ward, Kwimba District, Mwanza Region, Tanzania. The police have arrested 15 suspects in connection with the kidnapping. Three of the arrestees are relatives: P's paternal grandfather, maternal grandfather and her mother. Due to the fact that her mother had just given birth to a baby girl with albinism and prison would not be appropriate for the baby, the Mwanza Regional Commissioner has ordered them to be sent to an alternative secured environment. The police have also set up a search party to look for P. (Trusted Source: UTSS interview with Tanzanian police and Ndamhi Village Executive Officer, MWANZA, TANZANIA – four year old girl with albinism kidnapped; December 27, 2014.)

1 report: 1 killing

Killing	On September 23, 2017, a 2-year-old boy with albinism by the name of N.M. was reported missing between 8:00 and 9:00 PM in the city of Dapaong in the locality of Pana Bagou in northern Togo, West Africa. The little boy was later found dead and 62nclud. It was reported that the victim’s body was supposed to be exhumed on the third day following his burial and taken to the neighboring country of Benin to serve in witchcraft practices for the purpose of bringing riches. Some of the 4 suspected murderers have been arrested and are currently in the hands of the local police. The Togo Albinism Association ANAT says “We have a video footage of the burial of the little boy. We firmly condemn this act and demand your support to say NO to these acts in our country.” (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names form this publication, DAPAONG, TOGO – two-year-old boy with albinism found dead; September 28, 2017.)

9 reports: 8 survivors / 1 asylum

Asylum	Legal history was made in the USA when, on December 16, 2020 , a 34-year-old woman with albinism from Uganda was granted asylum in Boston, Massachusetts.
Survivor	This report counts as 2 separate PWA attacks – On October 7, 2016, 2 boys with albinism were kidnapped in the village of Bujuko in Central Uganda. They are part of a family with many children among whom four have albinism. The mother is facing many challenges after separating from her husband who wanted to sacrifice one of the children with albinism. The kidnapping occurred while four of the siblings were on their way to school and the two older boys were blindfolded with handkerchiefs believed to have chemicals on them. Some people saw the boys in a taxi and telephoned their mother asking if she knew where the boys were going. Oblivious of the situation, she denied that they were her children but the other person insisted on their identity. A one-and-a-half-day search began for the boys who were miraculously found alive and well in a medium income Kampala suburb looking for their way home. It was a long search using police, local radio stations and word of mouth. The case is still under investigation and a lot of information is not yet available. (Trusted Source: To protect our sources, we have withheld their names from this publication – BUJUKO, UGANDA – two boys with albinism survive kidnapping; October 17, 2016.)

Survivors

This report counts as 2 I PWA attacks – In 1899, at the turn of the 20th century, two young African-American brothers with albinism by the names of G. (6) and W. (9) M. went missing in the Jim Crow South Town of Truevine, Virginia, USA. G and W were two little boys born to a sharecropper family on a sweltering tobacco farm. One day a white man by the name of James “Candy” Shelton offered them a piece of candy, setting off events that would traffic them around the world and change their lives forever.

From the time these two vulnerable boys were kidnapped, they were lied to by their Circus management captors and told that their mother was dead. As far as G and W were concerned, they were now totally on their own for the rest of their lives. Captured into the circus, the M brothers performed for royalty at Buckingham Palace and headlined over a dozen sold-out shows at New York’s Madison Square Garden. They were global “superstars” in a pre-broadcast era. But the very root of their “success” was in the color of their skin and in the outrageous caricatures they were forced to assume: supposed cannibals, sheep-headed freaks, even “Ambassadors from Mars.” The M brothers were victims of violence, for what else is peonage but violence? Back home, their mother H.M. never accepted that they were “gone” and spent at least 13 years trying to get them back, never stopping the searching for her sons. H placed missing-persons notices in Billboard and eventually found her sons. She helped them seize control over their lives, discovering that they were illiterate having never received an education. G and W returned to the circus in 1928 as paid employees. Love and kinship impelled H’s family to try for a century to protect G and W from a world that saw them as objects for exploitation. The family always believed the boys were kidnapped, including W’s personal testimony as an adult. G died in 1972, and W in 2001, at 108. W did not die a bitter man. He repeated the words “God has been good to me” so many times that it is now etched on his tombstone in Truevine, Virginia.

Zambia

28 reports: 10 killings / 14 survivors / 4 grave desecrations

Killing

(47-year-old man): On July 18, 2023, at around 9 am, Mr. C.B., aged 47 years old, was at Mr. T.P's house (his brother in-law) in the village of Nkungulu in the District of Katete (Eastern Province). Later on, Mr. K.P.B. came by the house to pick up Mr. C to give him some sweet potatoes that he had promised him. That was the last time he was seen. On July 22, 2023, the Katete Police Station received information that someone was in possession of the human body parts of a person with albinism and that the seller was in a town called Chadiza at the Chanida border in the Eastern Province. A follow-up was made by a combined team of Police Officers from Katete and Chadiza whereby one of the police officers posed as an interested buyer. Mr. P.B. aged 20 years old, from the village of Chongololo in the District of Katete was approached by the buyers and from his bag, he produced what was suspected to be human hair. He later took the "buyer" to where the body was located along the Musadwe stream near Nkungulu village in the District of Katete. The seller priced the body at K1, 000,000 (equivalent of $51,479 USD). The body was later retrieved by a team of police officers and upon physical inspection, the deceased's neck was bruised and swollen, and part of the head was shaved. The victim was identified as Mr. C.B. His relatives, who were not aware of the incident, were later informed. K.P.B was detained and taken into police custody.

Survivor

(16-year-old boy): On June 3, 2023, 4 men (two of whom are the same men who attempted to traffic the 41 year old man with albinism below) attempted to traffic a 16-year old boy with albinism between 16:00 and 18:00 hours in Mawire compound in Kalomo District of Southern Province. The boy is a Grade 10 student at Kalomo Secondary School. The five accused persons are all in custody and will appear in court soon in Kalomo District. Police have charged and arrested the two additional suspects for two counts of human trafficking. The other two were already charged with the attempted kidnapping of the 41-year-old man with albinism. A total of 5 suspects were charged and arrested.

(41-year-old man): On June 3, 2023, three men, attempted to traffic a 41-year-old man from Mwandi District for the price of 500,000 ZMK ($25 USD) at a guest house in Kalomo District (Southern Province). All three suspects have been charged and arrested with two counts of human trafficking.

NOTES

NOTE 1: Many attacks & killings of PWA in Africa are not documented or reported. UTSS is certain that crimes of colour against PWA are common in various parts of almost all African countries. LEGENDS & MYTHS ABOUND, AND UTSS HAS YET TO HEAR OF ONE THAT IS HUMANIZING.

Most myths reduce PWA to ghosts, magical beings or curses, etc. On rare occasion the discrimination is reversed and the PWA are “deified” into “gods”. Either way, they rarely get to enjoy their status as normal human beings. Many countries have stories about the mysterious disappearance of PWA. There is a growing, documented truth to these rumors. We know that many PWA have “disappeared” due to abduction, then mutilated and killed by fellow citizens (sometimes family members “friends” or neighbors) for the purpose of witchcraft related rituals.

These ritual attacks frequently find their roots in ancient ancestral beliefs, are a familiar concept to most Africans, and have been going on since time beyond memory.

NOTE 2: Countries known to be involved in the cross-border trade of PWA and their body parts: Tanzania, Burundi, Kenya, DRC, Mozambique, Malawi, South Africa, Swaziland.
